Large Crowd Hails Eddy Concert Here

Nelson Eddy has won wide acclaim throughout the world as a popular baritone singer and the 2500 people in the Gardiner W. Spring auditorium last night will long remember him, his clear, rich voice and his generous response to encores.

Most of all they will remember his easy manner on the platform, his informal, oftentimes humorous, comments between selections, his every-ready smile and his characteristic mannerisms that have long made him a screen favorite.

Other singers are regarded by some critics as more skilled in the classical selections but last night's near-capacity audience will place the white-haired Nelson Eddy as top on their list as an entertainer and as a person who wins his audience completely.

He opened his long program with a group of early American songs and his second group included not-too-heavy pieces from German composers. French selections were in the third group.

Encores were very numerous and after his final group of songs he returned to sing four more pieces, all favorites from his popular motion pictures. He left the stage again, but insistent applause brought him back for a final number.

His accompanist, Theodore Paxson, played a series of solos.

The printed program revealed the selections on the 1949-50 Civic Concert association series. These will include Helen Traubel, soprano; the Philharmonic piano quartet, the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra, and Guiseppe Di Stefano, tenor.

Tales OF TWO CITIES

CALENDAR

Have you noticed that the calendar for March is identical with February's? We did yesterday, after failing to tear off the old page and learning, to our happy surprise, that it didn't make a bit of difference.

March 1—yesterday—fell on Tuesday as did Feb. 1, and all the other little days follow right along as nice as you please. The only difference is that March is three days longer.

POLLING PLACES

At the request of a number of local readers, we're rerunning the list of local polling places in Friday's special school bond election.

In Upland, all voters will cast ballots at the elementary school. Ontario has three polling places —at the high school and at Central and South Euclid schools.

Alta Loma, Camp Baldy and Etiwanda voters cast their ballots at their respective schools. There are two polling places in Etiwanda—at Cucamonga elementary and Cucamonga Central. Polls are open from 7 to 7, and a two-thirds vote is required to pass the bonds.

JOKE

A radio comedian named Alan Young is, or should be, the sworn enemy of all Cucamongans. If we heard his Tuesday night show correctly, he referred to residents of our neighboring community as, and we quote, "Cucamongrels."

MAM Drive Is Off To Start; $300 Collected

The sum of $100 was realized from Saturday night's MAM dinner, while $200 has been gained from advertisements printed in the council's brochure. Both amounts are to be applied to build the foundation for the Mexican-American recreation hall here.

That was the announcement today from Paul Coronel, financial campaign manager. Within a few days, letters and pamphlets and pledge cards are to be mailed to local service clubs, churches and community organizations, soliciting their membership in the "organization of 100."

Donation of $50 or more from 100 organizatons to help the MAM realize its goal of $5000 for clubhouse construction are sought, Coronel explained.

"It is hoped that $400 or $500 may be realized for this initial drive," he added.

The brochures, explaining the purpose and objective of the MAM in building the local youth center will be off the press shortly. Interested persons may obtain them by writing to Paul Coronel, Vineyard avenue and Jurupa street, Ontario.

Drawing Set Is Only Loss In Ransacked House

Leo Wadsworth, 660 E. Fourth street, whose home was ransacked during his absence this week, reported to Ontario police this morning that after examining the contents of the house, he found that an old mechanical drawing set had been stolen.

The set is about 30 years old, made of German silver and has Wadsworth's name on it. A clear set of tennis shoe prints were found on the front porch, police said.

The burglar left a note for the police which read: "Dear Cops: Catch me if you can." It was signed by "Black Bart." Wadsworth said the drawing set was primarily of sentimental value. He is a Chaffey college administrator.

Upland Fourth of July Program May Become Three-Day Observance

Expanding of Upland's annual Fourth of July celebration to a full three-day affair is contemplated by the chamber of commerce, and Chamber Secretary Andrew R. Morrison has struck on a novel idea to promote the scheme with local merchants.

Traditionally, Upland has marked Independence Day with an afternoon picnic, baseball and softball and a fireworks display in the evening.

This year, it is hoped to add a business promotion day on Saturday and a church day on Sunday. The Fourth falls on Monday this year.

Morrison and James Land, chairman of the promotion committee—with the cooperation of Lynn Harrison of Upland Radio Co.—will make a wire recording of their plan.

Business men will then be called in small groups to hear the recording, with Morrison and Land on hand to answer questions.

"This should be a lot easier than going to each individual merchant to explain what we have in mind," Morrison said, "also," he added, "we will be able to present the full story better by writing it out and recording it."

Among other attractions, the chamber is negotiating with a well-known western movie star to present a program in Upland on the Fourth, Morrison said.

Endorse School Driving Course

The Upland Safety council has gone on record as endorsing the Cucamonga district safety council's stand in favor of student driving instruction at Chaffey.

Col. Dorsey J. Rutherford, council chairman, said that action was taken at last night's meeting. However, he said, the council realises that state or federal funds will have to be made available to the schools before that objective can be realized.

Council also discussed parking problems at Upland (Beulah) college. The congestion of vehicles on the street paralleling Arrow highway and immediately behind the new school buildings is such that fire trucks might not be able to get into the area in event of a blaze, it was explained.

Without taking action, the council members discussed the problem of ambulances and traffic safety on local streets.

It was pointed out that two accidents involving ambulances have occurred in recent months.

National safety council theme for April will be, "It Can Happen to You".

Jobs Open at SB Field

As a result of doubling C-47 aircraft repair work, there will be new jobs for 500 skilled workers at San Bernardino air depot, Col. George G. Lundberg, commanding officer, announced yesterday.

The repair line will jump from a quota of 14 to 28 planes a month, according to word received from the depot's Wright-Patterson air force base headquarters.

The new jobs are almost entirely among the skilled trades, Lundberg said. No clerical or administrative positions are involved in the depot's expansion program, it was explained.

New applications will not be accepted until the present backlog of applications is exhausted. Approximately 150 of the 500 allotment will be set aside for apprentice training in which veterans will have top priority.

The state employment service, advertisements in local newspapers and civil service advertisements will be utilized when openings are available.

Airport Use Is Revealed

Ontario International Airport reports a total of 6343 local and itinerant flights at the airport for the month of February.

Of these, 5947 were civil local flights. Local army aircraft flights totaled 306, said George Sanford, airport manager.

One aircraft carrier landed at the airport during the month just past, said Sanford.

A plan to hold the midget airplane races at the Ontario airport is now being completed, it was revealed. Art Chester, national president of the Professional Pilots Racing association, has surveyed the airport, and completed plans will be discussed with the city council in the near future, it is reported.

The races would include midget racing entries from Southern California.

Odd Fellows To Have Potluck

The I.O.O.F. Lodge No. 68 is giving a potluck dinner at the firemen's cabin on East Sixteenth street, Friday, March 4th, at 7:00 p.m. sharp. All members are urged to attend. The lodge is furnishing the meat and coffee. Bring a guest, your own table service and a pot.

Driver Quiz 'Impractical' Says Council

Many of the questions asked in California's state driver's license examinations are "tricky" and "impractical."

That was the conclusion reached by members of the Upland safety council last night. After comparing several question and answer sheets used in the vehicle department examinations, members were of the opinion that the questionnaires have been designed more to trap the unwary than to promote sensible driving.

Col. Dorsey J. Rutherford, council chairman, said the council favors revising the written examination.

Red Mission Is Blockaded

FANKFURT, Germany, (AP) — Armed military police today blockaded a Russian mission which refused American orders to leave the U. S. zone of Germany.

Supplies of water, gas and electricity were cut off and telephones disconnected in the bloodless siege of the Russian repatriation mission here. Food was shut off by orders to MP's to arrest anyone trying to enter the building or leave it.

Four officers and four soldiers and their families are in the mission.

A Russian officer, apparently from the Soviet military mission, tried to enter the house, but was turned away by an MP.

The mission handled the return of displaced persons to Russia.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American military governor, on Feb. 16 asked the mission to leave by March 1 because the number of DP's now agreeing to return to Russia is negligible. He said the regular Russian military mission could handle the work. He lifted the credentials of the repatriation mission.

The Russians protested vehemently and denounced the order as a violation of the Yalta and Potsdam agreements.

The U. S. Army set a deadline of last midnight—but forceful measures were not planned.

Clay said "as long as they don't want to get out of the house, we are in no hurry about getting them out."

The Russians remained.

Short Change Artist Bilks Local Theater

A short change artist victimized the Granada theatre yesterday at approximately 7 p.m. and got $10 from the cashier, Carldene Riggs, 911 Fifth avenue.

Ray Eiden, manager of the theatre, said that the man came to the box office, bought a ticket, tendered a $20 bill and received his change.

The man thereupon started trading bills for different denominations, coming out $10 to the good, it was discovered after he had left.

The trickster is described as being about 5 feet 10 inches in height, about 30 years of age, of heavy build, with dark wavy hair and a heavy beard. He wore tan clothing and a windbreaker jacket with a white "T" shirt.

The description given is substantially the same as that of the man who attempted the same short-change trick on the Park theatre last week, Ontario police said.

California Not For Him, He Headed for N.Y.

A small 12-year old boy decided for himself yesterday that he didn't like California, and walked out of his home, got on the highway, and headed for New York City.

Blonde, pudgy little Bernard Hasson, who lives with he parents at 1412 Parkway drive, El Monte, was picked up by the Highway Patrol and brought to Upland police station.

His father's out of work, he said, and he wants to go back to New York, where the family lived until three months ago.

Cars Crash At Euclid

The first accident in several weeks took place at Foothill boulevard and Euclid avenue early this morning at 1:45 a.m., when two cars collided at the intersection.

Wayne Horton Garrett, 643 E. Foothill boulevard, driving a 1937 Dodge, was traveling north on Euclid avenue when his car collided with a truck driven by John Phillip Caruso, 2801½ Gilroy street.

Caruso was traveling west on Foothill boulevard and said he had entered the intersection before he saw the signal change.

Garrett said he had the green light. Neither driver was cited. The car was damaged in the right rear fender. The truck bumper and the fog light was damaged.

'LADY LUCK' ENDS HOP IN 94 HOURS

FORT WORTH, Tex., (AP) — An American air force bomber today completed history's first nonstop flight around the world.

The Lady Luck II, a B-50 medium bomber, set down at Carswell air force base at 7:30:55 a.m., PST—94 hours and one minute after it left there Saturday.

Refueling on the fly, it circled the globe at nearly its greatest girth, covering 23,108 miles at an average of 239 miles per hour.

Tired and happy, its crew of 14 climber down slowly from the silver-nosed ship, convinced that with their aerial refueling technique, American bombers "can go anywhere in the world at any time."

The top command of the airforce came down from Washington to welcome the 14 men. Air Secretary Symington shook their hands, told them "you've done a wonderful job, this is the finest team work"

Second Try

Actually, this was the second try at the nonstop world flight.

A B-50 took off Friday, flew several thousand miles, then had to land because of an engine fire. A second B-50 was ready and left the Fort Worth base the following day.

From then on there was no trouble.

Capt. James Gallagher, pilot and spokesman for the crew, in a news conference said: "everything was quite normal about the whole flight. Everything worked out well."

There was "not a bit of trouble" in the tricky business of contacting the refueling tanker planes and bringing aboard a gas replenishment load.

Yes, said the captain, they were all pretty tired, "but we did very well on sleep" during the four-day flight.

The 14 men were two for each position, so tney relieved each other at the controls.

Show Capabilities

The crewmen had support in high places for their belief that this flight showed the combat capabilities of the aerial refueling technique.

Gen. Curtis E. Lemay, chief of the strategic air command, was asked if this "means you can use refueling to deliver an A bomb anywhere in Russia."

The general replied:

"Let's say any place that would require an atom bomb.

"Now we can put bombers and tankers any place any time where necessary."

Aside from the demonstration of the in-flight refueling method, the airforce also found it could keep tactical control over a plane anywhere in the world. If necessary, the B-50 could have been diverted from its course, ordered back or given any other change in order by headquarters here of the Eighth air force at any time during its trip.

There were hourly routine reports to the base throughout the mission.

The Boeing bomber's four 3,500-horsepower Pratt and Whitney engines kicked over quietly, muttering softly to themselves at the landing. They showed no signs of long hours of constant grind.

Above droned three B-29 tankers which flew from Tucson, Ariz., as an honor escort for the last stage of the flight.

On the side of the plane, in yellow paint, was the insignia of the 43rd bomb wing and its latin legend meaning "willing, also able."

Californians aboard the "Lady Luck II" in her historic flight were listed by the Associated Press as Lt. Arthur M. Neal, Grass Valley; Tech. Sgt. Melvin G. Davis, North Long Beach and Lt. Roland M. Bonner, Redondo Beach.

Rainstorm Is Due Friday

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A rainstorm due to bring Southern California unsettled weather through Friday sent brisk winds ahead of it today.

The weather bureau ordered small craft warnings up at noon from Point Conception to Oceanside for winds of 20 to 30 miles per hour, with locally stronger gusts. The warnings are to be flown until Thursday night.

Forecasters said barometers are dropping in anticipation of a general storm, with two fronts—one due late today, the other tonight or early tomorrow.

ASSOCIATION IN REBUTTAL

Bond Issue Opposed

Reaffirming its opposition to the proposed Chaffey $2,000,000 bond issue scheduled to come before the voters Friday, the San Bernardino County Taxpayers' association today stated that high school needs are "not so pressing" as elementary school needs at the present time

In an official statement released this morning, the association said:

"These elementary needs must be given careful consideration, and ahead of present high school needs."

Surveys Need

"Ontario is proposing this month an elementary school bond issue for $1,000,000, which will put that district within about $28,000 of its bonding limit, yet, it has been stated, that this amount will only meet the needs through 1950-51. It is a generally accepted fact that elementary school enrollments in 1952-53, or later, will far exceed the 1950-51 enrollments, which means that Ontario will soon have to go beyond its present maximum bonding limit or will have to obtain a loan or grant from the state. The state is not in a favorable financial position at this time, according to the state department of finance."

In Upland

Considering the situation in Upland, the association stated:

"Although the extent of construction in the Upland elementary district has not yet been determined, that system will need a direct tax increase or a bond issue in the immediate future to meet its expansion requirements."

In connection with the Fontana situation, the association says that it is "presently operating under a direct tax for its building program, and is considering the advisability of a bond issue".

The association, in its statement, insisted that "careful planning should precede the calling of a bond election", and further elaborated:

"Planning must include comparative data on types of construction, architectural design, facilities, equipment and cost estimates that are realistic. From such a program will come a sound high school development in Fontana—a need which the association recognizes—a need which the association believes has existed for some time. This is a need which should not require a $500,000 coat-tail rider for "vote appeal"—on which Fontana, as well as every other part of the district, will pay tax money actually needed for elementary schools, needed for hospital facilities, needed for sewage disposal plants, and for other community services.

Such planning should be arranged over a two to three-year period, the association believes.

The association called upon voters to "defeat the Chaffey high school district bond issue on March 4", although it believes that the "democratic rights of the proponents of this issue to express their opinions should be respected".

Mrs. Joseph Salvador introduced the speaker of the day, Mrs. Emery Sherman Beardsley whose topic "The Charm of Good Grooming," held her listeners attention as she outlined the salient features that make the charming well-groomed woman.

Each of these points were illustrated by sketches made by the speaker. Mrs. Beardsley, an authority in the field of fashion, enumerated various means of achieving good taste in choice of costumes. She stated that each individual had talents for design and emphasized the need of unity which is composed of contrast, balance, rhythm, proportion and dominance. The speaker reassured the audience that the length of skirts would remain the same this season.

Suits Take On Feminine Detail For Easter Parade

BY DOROTHY ROE
AP Fashion Editor

Busy women who "simply live in a suit" will find good news in the spring collections.

Suits destined to lead the Easter parade are slim, streamlined, softly tailored, with feminine details which do not detract from the tailored lines.

Fabrics are all-important, and handsomer than ever, with much emphasis on new light-weight worsted flannels, yarn-dyed gabardines which have a textured look, smooth men's wear worsted in unmanly colors and tweeds to suit every taste. U. S. looms are turning out fabrics comparable to the best imports, says the American Wool council.

Collars on the new suits are likely to be small and high, of rounded shawl cut or narrow, high-buttoned lapel types. The general feeling is for smooth, flowing lines, with no bunches or bulges to mar the silhouette.

The strictly man-tailored suit has retired gracefully in favor of that cut on softer more feminine lines, yet made with the same meticulous tailoring.

The smartest looking jackets are long enough to cover the hip curve, and are worn with slim skirts often slit at side, front or back.

Some of the newest suits have adjustable sleeves which may be worn "push-up" length with cuffs turned back, or full-length with cuffs turned down.

Contrasting silk braid trimming is used on many dressmaker suits, while others are trimmed in wide bands of matching satin ribbon.

This spring it's going to be easy for every woman to be suited.

Hundley-Fettik Vows Exchanged February 19

Miss Patricia Hundley and Wallace A. Fettik exchanged wedding vows on February 19 at the St. George's Catholic church in Ontario.

The 10 a.m. ceremony was performed by the Rt. Rev. Monsignor John Hegarty.

The church was decorated with white stock for the single ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Hundley, 233 El Morado court, Ontario, while the bridegroom's father is Andrew Fettik, 742 West Maitland, Ontario.

The bride was lovely in a white slipper satin gown which featured a fitted bodice of chantilly lace, a bouffant skirt with an inset of lace at the bottom and a long cathedral train. She wore a fingertip veil, secured by a demure bonnet fashioned of matching lace in a sweetheart style. A single strand of pearls and a bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid completed her ensemble. She was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Dorothy Grace Morrison of Upland, chose an American beauty satin gown with which she carried a bouquet of American Beauty and white roses, for her role as maid of honor.

Serving as bridesmaids were Miss Joanne McWilliams, Miss Maureen Underwood and Miss Therese Heyer. They wore identical frocks of turquoise satin, with which they carried bouquets fashioned of American Beauty roses and white sweetpeas.

Little Roberta Carmody was dressed in an American Beauty satin frock, styled after the senior attendant's for her role as flower girl.

Joe Borba assisted the bridegroom as best man, while Joe Jertberg of Chino, Craig Morrison and Harry McBeth ushered the 200 guests.

Mrs. Glenn Reeder played a medley of nuptial selections preceding the ceremony and accompanied Miss Kathryn Sibley, who sang "Ave Maria," "The Lord's Prayer," "Panis Angelicus," and "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother."

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Ontario Woman's clubhouse, where the bride's mother, Mrs. Hundley, received guests in an aqua gown, with which she wore pink accents.

Mrs. Howard Morrison and Miss Mary Lee Valiroy served at the reception.

The bride chose a beige suit with which she wore forest green accessories for her going away ensemble. The young couple went to San Francisco and Yosemite. They are now at home to friends and relatives at 233½ El Morado court, Ontario.

The bride, who attended Loyola university in Chicago, Illinois, is employed at the Pomona branch Pacific Telephone and Telegraph, while the bridegroom, a graduate of Chaffey college, is employed at the Ontario post office. Both are popular members of the Christopher club, the bridegroom having served as president.

Queen Has Gay Whirl

Gowned and crowned in regal splendor befitting her royal position, Patricia Adelyn Scoggin, petite Queen of the 1949 National Orange show, is in the midst of a gay 10-day swirl of excitement visiting the nation's capitals to spread the fame of the spectacular citrus classic opening in San Bernardino March 10-20.

Queen Pat, 18-year-old blue-eyed Victorville, Calif., high school senior, won the coveted title of Queen of the thirty-fourth annual National Orange show over 15 other beauteous candidates from as many southland communities.

Stunningly clad in the height of fashion, the light brown-haired desert beauty was flown to Washington, D. C., by Transcontinental and Western air, where she presented to Vice-President Alben Barkley the 500,000th crate of golden oranges packed in California this year.

From there she was sped by airlines to New York, Pittsburgh and Chicago where she presided in queenly fashion over the opening of national fruit auctions. In those cities and in Philadelphia, Queen Patricia appeared on numerous nationally famous radio programs and was the guest of numerous night spots famed for their gaiety and brilliance.

Queen Patricia will return to San Bernardino, where she will reign in crimson robes and golden crown over the myriad activities of the 1949 National Orange show, which this year far surpasses any other show in its long and successful history.

GOP Advances Tax Cutting Plan to Counter President

Would Reduce Excise Taxes, Other Levies

BY WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON, (AP) — House Republicans lined up today behind their own plan to cut taxes as a counter proposal to President Truman's request for $4,000,000,000 in additional revenue.

Without taking a definite stand on general taxes such as those on incomes, the GOP leadership came out strongly for cuts in excise taxes. These are imposed on train fares, telephone tolls, movie tickets, etc.

The Republicans proposed the reduction as "the first order of business" for the 81st Congress.

The GOP decision was announced late yesterday by Republican leader Martin of Massachusetts following the first meeting of the new Republican policy committee.

Its unanimous endorsement of the excise tax cut said the need is "immediate and imperative."

The new tax schedule backed by the Republicans is embraced in a bill already introduced by Martin, who said he believes the ways and means committee will approve it or a substitute.

There are 15 Democrats and 10 Republicans on the ways and means group, and Martin predicted that five Democrats would vote with the Republicans on the excise tax issue.

Disputing estimates that a cutback in excise taxes would knock from $800,000,000 to $1,500,000,000 from revenues, the Republicans said they believe the cut would encourage business. They said it would provide enough jobs to offset any revenue loss and in effect would increase total federal revenues.

'Snake Pit' Not For Children

"The Snake Pit," new photoplay to be shown at the Grove theater starting Saturday, is not for children, Ben Adams, manager of the theater, warns.

Although parents who bring their children will not be excluded, Adams advised that the show, although excellent for adults and one of the finest pictures made in the past year, might be too morbid and serious for young folks in their earliest teens and under ten.

To make up for this, the Grove theatre will put on a special children's show in the early afternoon. A Roy Rogers wild west show will be seen and other special attractions are being planned, said Adams.

At 3:30 p.m., the theatre will be cleared for the regular show, and "The Snake Pit" may then be seen.

Drastic Revision of Courts Legal Procedures Is Foreseen

SACRAMENTO (AP) — There is every indication the legislature will attempt to revise—drastically in some cases—courts, their procedures and criminal law.

The heavy introduction of bills dealing with crime, penal institutions and courts largely stems from studies made by the governor's crime commissions and the legislature's own interim committees.

Look for the bitterest debate to develop around Gov. Warren's request that his commission on organized crime be continued. It was one of five authorized by the last legislature, and the most widely known because of its slot machine investigations.

The state's rapidly expanding population has made itself felt on county jails. Investigators have found some overcrowded, ill-equipped and unsanitary.

Assemblyman Vernon Kilpatrick, Los Angeles, author of many bills on the subject, would empower the state director of corrections to act in such cases. On his complaint the attorney general or district attorney would be required to bring action to abate the jail as a public nuisance. The court would designate the place where the prisoners were to be transferred.

To assist counties in improving their jails, Kilpatrick would set up a $500,000 fund. The state would pay up to 25 per cent of remodeling or new construction costs in counties. However, no county would be permitted to get more than $100,000 in two years.

There are several bills dealing with sexual psychopaths. They call for a scientific state study of the problem and also provide that no such person be released from a state mental hospital until the superintendent is convinced the person is no longer a menace.

Laws governing insanity cases also would be changed. One of the most important would be to permit simultaneous trial where a dual plea of not guilty and not guilty by reason of insanity are entered by a defendant. In such cases separate verdicts would be required.

Powers and duties of the probation officer would be extended by several measures. But one of the most interesting suggestions is to permit the board of supervisors to set up a $10,000 revolving fund to make small loans to probationers.

Ousted Prof To Tell Story

PALO ALTO (AP) — Dr. Herbert J. Phillips, ousted as a communist from University of Washington faculty, plans to tell his story on "many hundreds" of campuses in the United States.

He announced his plans at the conclusion of a talk at the city park here yesterday.

In reply to the question of a student as to what help he could be given, he replied:

"You can spread this around: I intend to go to many hundreds of campuses throughout the United States. This is a vanguard organization. I hope we can make it a national organization."

Speaking under the sponsorship of the Stanford University committee on academic freedom, Phillips said he has been a member of the communist party for the past 13 years. He contended he is entitled to hold his own political beliefs and that the communist party in the United States "does not advocate the overthrow of our government."

A group of 100 to 150, mostly students, listened quietly as he told his story.

The meeting was held in city park after permission to speak had been denied at University of California, San Francisco State and Santa Rosa Junior College unless a rebuttal speaker from the University of Washington could be present.

Fire Loss Light In February

February was a light month for the Ontario fire department.

With only seven calls for firemen and apparatus, the total loss due to fire in the city amounted to $225. The only fire of relatively large proportions was that at the Auto Service laundry, 708 East A street.

A clothes dryer caught fire at the laundry on February 19. Loss was estimated at $125, said L. H. Crouch, owner.

Auto Accident Rate Is Down

Upland had 13 auto accidents in February, with 11 local cars involved and two persons suffering hurts. Of these accidents, only two occured at the Foothill-Euclid intersection.

Chief trends in this month's report, according to Safety Council Chairman D. J. Rutherford, is a fewer number of crashes and a more wide spread, geographically, in their location.

TALES

ed by the federal government show Compton has made the largest growth among Los Angeles county communities in the period from 1940 to 1949.

The population there has jumped from 16,000 to 42,000 in the nine year period, figures show. Just how much of the increase is accounted for by athletic recruits for Compton JC is not stated.

TOO POSITIVE

Newswriters are instructed to "accentuate the positive" in their stories—to recast negative statements in an affirmative way. But this commendable idea was carried too far, we thought, in a piece of copy which passed our desk today. Referring to the fact that more Californians are without jobs this month than last, it proclaims: "Unemployment was still on the upgrade in February." Now, really . . .

WATER RIGHTS

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The Southern California Edison Co. contended today that the federal government does not control water rights in non-navigable streams such as the Kern river.

Continue Discussion of Chaffey Bond Election

This article continues the Chaffey board of education's argument against the San Bernardino Taxpayers association which has recommended adversely on the Chaffey bond issue before voters Friday.

Yesterday's article covered points one and two of the Association's list of reasons for their adverse recommendation.

3. Quoting the Taxpayer's association again, "There is logical cause to believe that building costs may decline considerably within the next two or three years."

Strong Advantage

In this instance the Taxpayer's association is actually pointing out a strong advantage in the proposed Chaffey plan.

In the Chaffey expansion program, building need be only as fast as student increases require. The plan permits construction to be extended over a three or four year period, if desirable, in consideration of economic conditions. This fact has been repeatedly emphasized in public discussions of the plan.

4. "Agricultural properties," the Taxpayer's association statement pointed out, "particularly citrus and grapes, from which a large part of the tax would be derived to finance this program, have suffered severe losses in the past two years."

Critical Need

With a full knowledge of this condition in mind, your board of trustees would not have called the Chaffey bond election at this time were it not for the critical need to provide the machinery for expansion.

It has been said, "can't you give us just one year before bringing this thing to a decision?"

Since the bonds to voted on this Friday, March 4 will not be sold until after July 1, 1949, there will be no bond assessment until the fiscal year 1950-51. The proposed plan, therefore, postpones bond assessments by one year.

5. As an argument against the Chaffey bonds, the Taxpayers association has listed, "The simultaneous impact of taxes upon real property is economically unsound for community welfare."

This is not an argument against the Chaffey bond election. It is an argument against the legal tax structure under which education is forced to operate.

The Taxpayer's association could do some very constructive work in this field. It is estimated that less than a third of the wealth of the State of California is in real estate.

Yet that same real estate must bear the entire cost of school construction. It is an unfair distribution of the cost.

However, the solution is not to defeat school bond elections when schools under the law have no other source of funds. The solution is to shift the impact of the taxes to all the wealth of the state, and not just to real estate wealth.

Planned Maximum

6. The Taxpayer's association published statement declared, "The need for carefully planned maximum value expenditures for elementary school purposes is of greater importance and urgency at this time."

There is no denying the critical need of the elementary school any more than the high school level. It is not a problem of which, but both.

The Taxpayer's association believe the high school peak will not arrive and become a problem until late in the 1950's.

Yes, in all probability there will be a peak at that time, as the Chaffey board has pointed out publicly.

The peak of the late 1950's, however, is a long way off.

On the other hand, the bond issue this Friday, deals with a problem which is already on the door step of Chaffey district voters.

In marking their ballots this Friday, voters may rest assured that the proposed high school expansion program preserves the Chaffey tradition of maximum value expenditures, with effective education at a minimum cost.

7. Finally, the Taxpayer's association has said, "The existing community differences and legal confusion regarding Fontana's possible withdrawal from the Chaffey district should be settled before a bond issue is decided."

The above statement is probably purposefully vague.

Hope For Withdrawal

One interpretation could be that some in the West end are still wistfully hoping Fontana will withdraw, relinquish all her dollars and emotional rights in the Chaffey campus, and leave plenty of space for the west end high school youths.

The recent unanimous decision of the Fontana elementary board of trustees, to support the Chaffey bond election, put an end to that dream.

If Fontana should withdraw after construction of the new Fontana high school, the west end has made a good bargain by buying space for 800 students at a cost of not more than $740,000. Whereas that space on today's morket is worth $1,200,000.

Fontana would also obtain a satisfactory deal under the plan. They will receive $1,500,000 for their high school and will pay over $760,000 of the cost.

The plan is of benefit to all parts of the district. There is no need to fear Fontana's possible withdrawal since it would really make very little difference.

Legal Aspect

The legal aspect of the possible withdrawal was clarified early in the fall of 1948.

An opinion from the San Bernardino county cousel was submitted to the Attornel General of the State of California, who concurred.

If Fontana should withdraw from the Chaffey district after the new high school is constructed, the bonds would be paid off by Fontana and the balance of the district on the same basis as though the separated areas were still in the Chaffey district.

In conclusion, the Chaffey board of trustees again wishes to state its position.

The growth of the high school student population and the limited facilities, have created a problem for you, the people of the Chaffey district.

The proposed expansion program and the essential bond election are submitted as the best solution to your problem.

ICE BREAKERS

LONG BEACH, (AP)—Ice breakers could lead a fleet through Alaskan waters in mild winter weather.

So says Cmdr. Jack E. Gibson, Long Beach, skipper of the navy ice breaker Burton Island, which returned yesterday after what he called the farthest winter penetration into the frozen north.

SANTA MONICA, (AP)—Songwriter Mack Gordon's songwriting requires all his time, even to the exclusion of a divorce trial.

So he convinced Superior Judge Orlando H. Rhodes, who set the trial of Elizabeth Cook ("Here Comes Cookie") Gordon's divorce suit for June 3.

MARCH 15 IS COMING

We're just reminding you of something you're well aware of already—March 15 is just around the corner.

So, get out the paper and pencil now and start figuring. Don't put it off. It will be a lot easier to make up your income tax return if you aren't fighting the clock as well as the figures.

Remember, you must not only file or mail your 1948 tax report, and any payment due, before midnight of the 15th, but in certain instances estimates on 1949 income must also be made. This latter provision applies to those who expect to earn $5000 or more during this year over the exemptions allowed for their dependents, or who will collect $100 or more from sources other than salary or wages. These people must estimate their total 1949 income and make their first quarterly income tax payment on it by the 15th.

Preparing your income tax return isn't one of the happiest chores of the year, but why not do it with a smile? That's the way we're going to START on ours.

Militant Mamas Want Tax Exemptions

By Robert Ruark

WASHINGTON — A small but vigorous lobby has been snapping at my ankles for the past several years, and I am finally forced to go to bat for it. This is the lommfte, of which I speak—the league of militant mamas for tax exemption.

This league is composed of ladies, with young, who are forced to work to padd out papa's payroll, or to rear the children solely on their own efforts. They are ladies who park the offspring in a nursery home, or pay a maid a buck an hour, to feed and water the progeny while the woman of the house toils eight hours in the local ropewalk.

Tax Revision

What these women want is a tax revision which would allow them to write off servant-hire as legitimate business expense, since the presence of a servant is necessary if the lady is to earn a living outside the home. They say that a man can charge off his secretary's salary as a business expense, and a secretary is no more vital to his career than a babytender to theirs.

The plaint is logical. If, they say, the hired help doesn't show up, we cannot go down to strive behind the perfume counter. If we do not strive behind the perfume counter, our darling children will starve. We cannot leave little Henrietta at home by herself, to set fire to the curtains and put the scissors to the cat. We cannot leave little Archie in the crib with an all-day sucker for eight hours, while we make the money to buy the little monster's pablum.

We must have help, which families with non-working women regard as luxuries. By the time we have paid the help, and they have chopped off the weekly withholding, there is not enough left to buy a can of baby-oil let alone a prep-school education for little Luther. And yet they tax us as if we were keeping every cent of what we make.

Necessary Expense

You take a man, they say, and he will hire some blonde trick to take his dictation and tell him he is wonderful all day long in the office and make him dissatisfied with the home cooking and run his errands for him and the government says, fine, Miss Switch's salary is a necessary expense and you can saw it off your taxable income.

But when a poor, lorn lady wants to deduct the king's ransom she has to pay some reform-school graduate to keep her offspring from poisoning themselves, in her absence, the internal revenue people throw up their hands and holler fraud.

I don't know how many million of us working women there are, the spokeslady said, but you can bet none of us would be slaving over a hot notions counter if our Lords made enough to keep a slab of sidemeat in the cupboard without our paycheck assistance. Or, if the worthless wretch hadn't had the bad taste to run off with his stenographer, leaving us with the little mouths to feed, or made us penniless widows by thoughlessly colliding with a lamp post.

The point is, very few of us ladies labor because we like to play a typewriter or stand up all day on our poor, sore feet. We work because we have those little mouths to feed and that is the only reason, and as long as there are little mouths around the house somebody has to look after them while we slave in the sordid marts of commerce. And as long as we have to pay for this service it is a necessary business expense and we want to deduce same from the annual agony accounting on March 15.

It is still a man's world, the spokeslady said, a trifle hysterically, and it is time those heartless beasts in the government realized that a legitimate business expense can be something besides a voucher for a wild party for six susceptible congressmen with blondes dancing on the table and champagne slopping in the buckets.

Tiny Snakes Born Far From Home

LONG BEACH (AP)—Quadruplets with pink bellies and blue backs, each about the size of a kitchen match, are slithering around a zoo cage near here—half a world away from home.

Mama is a deadly 18-inch Australian black snake.

She gave birth to the quartet last Thursday in what Wesley Dickinson, director of the Grace Wylie Zoo at nearby Cypress, thinks is the first time a captive of the species has had snakelets.

The jet-black mother was brought here from Australia three months ago. Papa is somewhere in the bushes down under.

Dickinson expects to play midwife to a reptile again any lay now. His Australian tiger snake—which he says is the most deadly known, with enough venom to kill 400 humans — is No. 1 on the zoo's maternity list.

The zoo is named for its former owner, Grace Wylie, killed by a cobra bite last year.

Bright People Have Everything Except Kids

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Exceptionally intelligent people, says a Stanford professor, do better than their less brainy contemporaries in virtually all things except one—they have fewer children.

It is doubtful if they have large enough families "to maintain their stock," said Dr. Lewis M. Terman in reporting to the international council for exceptional children on the careers of 1450 gifted persons he selected as youngsters and traced to the age of 35.

The professor emeritus of psychology said the group had only 1500 offsprings by 1945, little more than one child per family.

Many of the families are not yet complete but even so Dr. Terman doubted there would be many more offspring.

But he has tested 400 of the children and has found about 30 per cent are as smart as their parents; they have "I. Q.'s of 140 or higher—10 to 12 times the proportion in the general population."

India Government Has Withstood First Test

By Dewitt MacKenzie

The young government of the great Dominion of India, headed by Prime Minister Nehru, has encountered the first major attempt to incite rebellion against it—and is able to announce that it has countered the plot.

India's steadiness in this trial by fire is a notable development in an Asia which is seething with civil war and rebellions. Were revolution to grip the dominion's three hundred millions, it would create a new and terrible threat to world peace.

Nehru accuses communist elements of "murder, arson, looting and sabotage" in an effort to precipitate a revolt. However, he says these terrorist activities have been localized by strong government action, and because the Indian people backed his government. There have been many arrests. Referring to red revolts in neighboring countries, the prime minister says:

Revolt Incited

"It presumably is in furtherance of this same policy that attempts were made in India to incite the people to active revolt."

Nehru charges that this violence is the work of a revolutionary group which broke away from the original communist party of India, "but collaborates with it on occasion". He says the government has refrained from acting against the communist party as a whole, "despite virulent propaganda and incitement to violence". He explains that the government policy is to act only against "erring elements of an organization".

Nehru brings out the highly interesting point that the numerical strength of communism in India is small, although the exact membership isn't known. When I last was in India in 1943 the total number of communists was estimated at only about 8000, although they had secured control of some important trade unions.

Lifted Ban

However, that figure can't be taken as a guage, because it was only a few months prior to this that the government had lifted an Eight-year ban on communism. This ban had grown out of the notorious Meerut conspiracy trials in which twenty-eight Indian labor leaders and three English communists were accused of plotting to overthrow the government.

With the whole world watching, the cases dragged on for more than four years. Twenty-seven of the accused were convicted and given various sentences. A number of them testified that they were out to overthrow capitalistic governments, no matter who backed them.

Of course revolutionary activities are nothing new in India for there always has been sedition back through the centuries. When I first went there in 1916 I found the British had one of the most comprehensive secret-service networks in existence.

It isn't surprising to hear Nehru say communism isn't widespread in India. That country is intense in its nationalism — the antithesis of totalitarian communism—and this in itself would tend to prevent the spread of the red ism. The general attitude of thinking people is that, having got rid of British control, they aren't going to saddle themselves with any other.

Glad To Meet Ya, Mr. Truman

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Lyle Brown, division manager for Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, was sure employes at a new phone building here would enjoy meeting their big boss, Mark Sullivan.

Brown walked up to a group of messengers during an inspection tour and beamed:

"Fellows, I'd like you to meet our president."

Answered the nearest messenger:

"Gee — Gladda meetcha, Mr. Truman!"

Tiger Team Hit By Measles

Kaiser Fears Squad May Be Decimated

Coach Karl Kaiser's Tiger hoopsters, prepping for the CIF playoffs Friday, looked like a mighty sick team today — with measles blamed as the cause of their incapacity.

Kaiser said this morning forwards Sandy Merrick and Folkes are out, that guard Dick Slaght has been told not to report for practice tonight and that Dean Metcalf complained of leg pains in last night's practice session.

Robbie Davis hasn't been around for two days, the veteran mentor continued.

Chaffey is set to play Claremont here Friday night at 7:30. The winner of that game will go against the winner of the Loyola-Vista game at 3:45 Saturday at Redondo Beach.

Kaiser believes that the poor showing of his team in the final game of the Beverly Hills tournament is attributable to the disease. His club very nearly beat Ventura, then slumped badly in the final minutes of play. "It's not our style to lose out that way," Kaiser pointed out.

Major Players Still Dickering

(By The Associated Press)

Major league baseball teams entered the second day of their 1949 spring training sessions today with at least 23 players still dickering for more money.

The 16 teams began preparing for the 1949 grid yesterday with light workouts, pepper games and bull sessions.

Cleveland's world champion Indians, operating out of Tucson, Ariz., permitted four of their dissatisfied athletes, pitchers Gene Bearden, Will Hafey and infielders Joe Gordon and Roberto Avila, to work out.

Hurler Bob Lemon, also a holdout, was not in camp.

The National league champion Boston Braves, training at Bradenton, Fla., listed five holdouts, pitchers Warren Spahn, Clyde Shoun, catcher Phil Masi, infielder Ed Stanky and outfielder Jeff Heath.

Other holdouts include first baseman Les Fleming, Pittsburgh; outfielder Stan Spence, Boston Red Sox; pitcher Vic Raschi and infielder Bobby Brown, New Work Yankees; outfielder Johnn Wyrostek and pitcher Harry Gumbert, Cincinnati; outfielder Coaker Triplett, Philadelphia Athletics; second baseman Jerry Priddy and outfielder Pete Layden, St. Louis Browns; pitcher Schoolboy Rowe, catcher Andy Semmick and infielder Buddy Blattner, Philadelphia Phillies; Don Kolloway, Chicago White Sox.

Some of the chilliest weather in two months greeted the ten teams making Florida their headquarters, with temperatures ranging from 47-51 degrees.

In contrast, warm weather and sunny skies welcomed the Indians and New York Giants, out west. The Giants, at Phoenix, went through a three-hour workout with Manager Leo Durocher batting to the infield and directing a hitting drill.

The Chicago White Sox, at Pasadena, went through their first workout under their new leader, Jack Onslow. Jolly Cholly Grimm gave his Chicago Cubs' pitchers a hard time, chasing fungoes as well as pitching batting practice.

The St. Louis Brown, training at Burbank, Calif., plan to start full scale activities today. The pirates, at San Bernardino, Calif., expect to hold one drill a day until March 12, when they face the Cubs in their first Grapefruit league game.

Panthers To Play Pomona

The Chaffey College Panthers are getting ready to start the baseball season and will take on Pomona college Tuesday on the Sagehen diamond, thereby initiating proceedings for the 1949 season.

Their first JC engagement is against the Santa Monica Corsairs there Friday, March 11.

Coach George Hobbs said today he'll probably use three pitchers in the Pomona contest. Arnold Feldman, ex-Tiger elbower, is one; football end Lee Clemenson, who throws a mean, hard one, and a newcomer named Bob Suprize, are the others. Suprize is a left-hander, and pretty good, according to George.

Dale Clark is going to handle the catching for sure, but infield and outfield assignments are uncertain at this time, Hobbs said.

DON BENSON

Frank Ellena, the fiery leader of the Etiwanda Reginas has made arrangements to move his team and franchise to the Ontario ball park.

Frank, after some mimbo-jumbo with the league's executives, will have as his home field the local apple orchard, and will also have several of the now-defunct Rockets as wearers of the flaming red of Regina.

(The Rockets sold their franchise back to the league recently, not directly to Frank, as hinted in an earlier column.)

Rex Hannah, the former Rocket shortstop, is sorta like these guys going to college. After saying definitely that he would play for either the Alhambra or Long Beach teams, he now tells us that he will play first base for Franky.

Rex also says that Ellena wants both Howard Coats and "Jittery Jeff" Benner, the two Rockets twirlers. As a complete surprise to us at least was the desire of Frank to have little "Scooter" Monnie for his second sacker. Frank also wants a chance to have Bunky Orr work out for the team. He probably wants to see the size of his tummy and see if Bunk' can still bend over and touch his toes, without pulling loose several seams in his britches. Jake Kuhns is being beckoned for another twirl as the catcher, veteran Glenn Kelley will probably carry the main burden. "Bus" Thierchen, last year's Colton twirler has signed with the Reds, sez Rex.

Tentative Lineup

A complete line-up, and a tentative one at that, shows a pretty rough team. Here's how it shapes up as now: Kelley and Kuhns, catchers. Benner, Coats, and Thierchen, pitchers. Rex Hannah, first base. Monnie, second. Frances Johnston at short and Jimmy Burton at third. Taking care of the other gardens would be Jack Eddingfield, Dick Bundy, Bill Blatnick, and Bunky Orr.

Ernie Boles, who is one of the directors in the rapidly expanding West End Fish and Game Association, poured a very interesting tale about the club and it's aims and hopes the other day.

The organization was first formed before the war but disbanded and started reorganizing around the middle of 1947. At present they have a nearly finished clubhouse all to themselves at the Ontario Park, situated next to the police firing range, built by the members themselves.

They meet there on the second Wednesday of each month and also have classes every other Tuesday night at 7:30, for free instruction on the art of fly-tying. This fly-tying business is something in itself worth a line or two. You don't run around the clubhouse trying to catch a fly and then tie it down, as I first thought. You take the material at hand, and by carefully putting it together and tying a snappy knot at the right place and at the right time, have a darn good fishing "lure" or what ever they call 'em, at a nice cheap price.

This class is under Keith Petch, who spent quite some time at the Naval hospital at Corona, teaching the bed-fast GI's the knack, and is considered one of the best in these or any parts, when it comes to instructing.

Main Object

Ernie kept pounding home the main object of the club: to wit; to fight for the better ways of conservation in the fishing and hunting spots of our locale. They are doing this, not for themselves, but so that the toddlers of today may have something to hunt and fish when they reach adulthood tomorrow. Today fishing locally, for the most part, is a waste of effort unless you like to commune with nature. For hunting, Ernie sez that only 47 bucks were bagged last deer season in the San Berdoo county. (Sounds to us as if more hunters got nipped than the deer!)

The club aims are to better this sad-situation by a careful and organized conservation program. Only by organizing can any progress be made. Each member is assessed a meager $2.00 per year, and this is used for expenses, programs, and for advancement of the club and its aims.

So. . . .if you feel like the members, who now number over two hundred men with the right attitude and are real sports, come down any meeting night and you will be welcome. Incidently, the club has a red-hot attraction coming up April 13. At that time Boles has arranged with Roy Wetherby of South Gate, to show some 2000 feet of colored film of a red-hot big-game hunt, taken in deepest and we presume darkest Africa. This picture, made by Mr. Wetherby, who is a gun-manufacturer by trade, is considered the finest of its type ever made. Ernie saw the film back in December but could not land it for the local club members till April 13, due to the terrific demand for the celluloid. Admittance will have to be restricted to members and their friends only . . .P. S.. . .Ernie also said that lady nimrods and dear-hunters; we meant DEER-hunters, are welcome to join the club, also. . . .In closing, may we say that if guys think enough of a project to build a clubhouse all by themselves, for free, for an idea to help future kids have better hunting and fishing; well, by golly, we think it's good enough for us to join-up and do our part, too!! Here's our two buck's.

At present, the club's president is Cliff Bradford, with Keith Petch holding down the sec-treasury department. And in closing this story, let me say that Ernie said they had yet to have a dull meeting and a program that was not pretty good. . .Se you next Wednesday, at the clubhouse. . .

Bitter Brawl Looms For Heavy Crown

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Two world heavyweight boxing "champions" and a bitter brawl for financial control of the ear-scrambling trade are the likely results of Joe Louis' decision to re-retire and become a promoter.

The two "champs" probably will emerge from this scramble:

1. The winner of a 15-round Ezzard Charles-Jersey Joe Walcott bout, to be promoted by Louis and his associates in June, will be recognized by the National Boxing association.

2. Jack Solomons, British promoter, will claim the title for the survivor of a series involving Lee Savold, Bruce Woodcock and Freddie Mills.

Attitude of the New York State athletic commission, the only major ring group not associated with the NBA, is not definite. Chairman Eddie Eagan probably will receive a copy of Louis' retirement today. He has indicated that he prefers an elimination tournament to select a champ but expects no immediate action.

Louis touched off this wild scramble yesterday in surprising fashion when Abe Greene, NBA commissioner, made public a letter in which the Brown Bomber formally resigned as champion.

NEW YORK (AP) — The confusion in heavyweight ranks created by Joe Louis' decision to retire and become a promoter is similar to that caused two decades ago when Gene Tunney stepped down undefeated.

This time, however, there are a greater number of contenders and the most interesting battle royal is among promoters seeking the key to the rich heavyweight kitty.

The promotional free-for-all was missing when Tunney announced his retirement after knocking out Tom Heeney July 23, 1928. The year before he had scored his second triumph over Jack Dempsey in Chicago.

The New York State Athletic commission ordered an elimination tournament to name a successor. The outstanding contenders were Jack Sharkey and W. L. (Young) Stribling.

This pair met in Miami Feb. 27, 1929, Sharkey winning a ten-round decision. Meanwhile, Max Schmeling of Germany pushed to the front with victories over Johnny Risko and Paolino Uzcudun in New York.

Then Schmeling and Sharkey were matched in New York June 12, 1930. Before 79,222 fans, who paid a three-quarter million dollar gate, Schmeling was awarded the victory on a fourth round foul.

Six days later the New York commission, by a vote of 2 to 1, elected Schmeling heavyweight champion of the world.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Pat Valentino, California's two-fisted state heavyweight title-holder, tossed his gloves into the world's championship boxing ring today.

The swarthy San Francisco-born Italian-American wants a crack at the crown abandoned yesterday by Joe Louis.

SCORES TKO

SAN JOSE (AP)—Arturo Barron of Los Angeles scored an eighth round technical knockout over Jimmy Shans of Brawley last night.

Shans, his right eye swollen shut, was unable to continue. Each weighed in at 149½ pounds.

HORSES DIE AS FLAMES HIT STABLE

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP —Fifteen thoroughbreds, mostly weanlings and two-year-olds, died in a fire that early today destroyed a 26-stall training barn at Clifford Moocers' Walnut Springs Farm near here. Waller Jones, farm manager, estimated damage at $200,000.

The flames were out of control when discovered about midnight. Farm hands were unable to save any of the horses or equipment.

Nine weanlings, four two-year-olds, two broodmares and a lead pony were listed as lost.

Former Ontarian Signs To Play in Pioneer League

Richie Smith, Mt. San Antonio college baseballer, and a native Ontarian, has been signed as a pitcher for the Billings, Mont., Mustangs of the Pioneer league.

Smith, who is a nephew of Mrs. Jack Dorrity and Lucile Majors of Ontario, has been invited to attend the Brooklyn Dodgers' spring baseball school at Vero Beach, Fla.

He formerly played third base for the Pomona High Red Devils.

Stake Races at Hollywood Park

INGLEWOOD (AP) — Topped by the $100,000 Hollywood Gold Cup, 15 stakes engagements for an aggregate value of $550,000 will highlight the 1949 summer racing season at Hollywood Park.

The Gold Cup, at a mile and one-quarter, comes off July 16.

In addition, there will be four events with $50,000 purses and 10 at $25,000.

The Hollywood meeting opens May 17 and closes with the $50,000 Sunset Handicap at a mile and five-eighths on July 23.

Other important stakes include the $50,000 Westerner, formerly the Hollywood Derby, for three-year-olds, at a mile and one-quarter, on July 9; the Golden State Breeders Handicap for three-year-olds and up bred in California, at a distance of a mile and one-sixteenth, on May 21, and the American Handicap on July 4, for three-year-olds and up, at a mile and one-eighth.

HAVE HEARING

ARCADIA (AP)—The California racing board Monday will hold a hearing for jockey Willie Garner, grounded by Santa Anita board of stewards for cutting across the field on Olympia in the $100,000 Santa Anita Derby Feb. 19.

Rogers Returns To Pomona Ring

Nature Boy Buddy Rogers, the magnificent he-man of wrestling, listed as one of the biggest box-office names in the game, returns to the Pomona VFW arena Saturday night to meet Sheik Lawrence, the handsome Arabian, and idol of Pomona Valley wrestling followers in the top attraction of a four-star program.

The last time Nature Boy appeared at the Pomona VFW arena he defeated Golden Boy before a jam-packed crowd, but no match since or before has the box-office appeal as the coming main event and as the result officials of the Veterans of Foreign Wars are of the opinion that Pomona's record turn-out will be on hand Saturday night.

Harry Miles, VFW arena general manager, already reports a brisk advance seat sale and is urging regular patrons to make reservations now, also to pick up tickets at the arena in advance, if possible.

Backing up the Sheik Lawrence-Nature Boy Buddy Rogers three-fall bout the VFW has Super Swedish Angel meeting Carlos Mojica, Baron George Von Schlitz opposing Pierre LaSartes, and Frank Hickey tangling with St. Louis Bob Corby.

RIVERSIDE JC TOPS COMPTON

The mighty Compton Tartars, supposedly the southland's finest JC squad, couldn't match baskets with the Riverside Tigers last night and dropped a 55-48 game to the OEC champions.

Eastern conference prestige got a big boost in the game, which saw the inspired Bengals take a first-half lead and hold it to the end.

See Utah, SFU In Cage Tourney

NEW YORK (AP)—Utah, San Francisco and City College of New York looked like the best bets today to join Kentucky and St. Louis in the National Invitation Basketball tournament field.

Needing three more teams to complete the eight-club lineup, you probably wouldn't go far wrong in guessing Bradley, Western Kentucky and Loyola of Chicago.

Kentucky, which has announced it will gun for both the Invitation and NCAA crowns, and St. Louis, defending titlist, are the only definite nominees for the eliminations March 12-14, 17-19 at Madison Square Garden.

Ortiz Bests Game Marino

HONOLULU (AP) — Bantam king Manuel Ortiz, 118, El Centro, Calif., lettuce grower, knocked Dado Marino, 116½, Hawaii's little brown doll, clear back to the flyweights last night in a 15-round title fight.

Ortiz, 32, and matched against a man his same age, battered Marino's face into a pulp in 14 torrid rounds. But never once was he able to floor the little Hawaiian Filipino, who took only the first and fifth rounds.

The Californian threw punches like a machine. Afterwards Ortiz said he had thought the referee would stop the fight twice as Marino absorbed the punishment.

Padres Will Play Sunday

The San Diego Padres are ready for a game right now, says Manager Bucky Harris, and they're going to have one Sunday.

Harris will lead his charges over to Riverside Sunday for a contest with the Portland Beavers. The Padre squad, some 40 strong, is conditioning at Galvin park.
